

■ An activity titled Kingdom Animalia was organised on the occasion

AG DAV Centenary observes Animal Day

HT Correspondent

NEW DELHI: To recognise the importance of the animals, Arvind Gupta DAV Centenary Public School, Model Town, recently observed the Animal Day.

An activity titled Kingdom Animalia was organised during which the students were dressed as lion, tiger, elephant and monkey. They gave a small presentation on their favourite one.

Then, they also mimicked sounds made by the animals sound and imitated their walk.

Thereafter, another activity titled Big Think was conducted. In which, the wildlife conservation, classification and the importance of the sanctuaries were told.

The significance of the each and every creature, ranging from the tiniest worm in the nursery garden to pets, wild animals and the whales in the sea, was also discussed.

The principal, Mala Sood, and supervisory head, Sonu Sahni, encouraged the learners and urged them to respect animals.